

To

The Head of Department

Dear Sir/Madam,

Sub: Letter of recommendation

It is my pleasure to recommend Poulomi Guha, my student, as a candidate for pursuing M.Sc in Data Science, in your esteemed University.

I am Sanchita Bhattacharjee, who has a five (05) years of experience as an Assistant Professor in Data Science/Statistics in various reputed educational institutions in India (formerly professor at Indian Institute of Social Welfare and Business Management and presently Assistant professor at Techno India University) and have seen many students come and go. Poulomi Guha is my student in the Data Science/Statistics department in Techno India University. She is one individual who uniquely stands out among all my students.

During our time together in Techno India University, she has displayed great talent in her academic learning. She is a bright student that I have come across, who has a fine grip over her subject i.e. data science and has developed significant prowess in problem solving techniques. In other words, she has a strong perception of complexities and intricacies associated with her subject, which is based upon Immaculate Conception of the fundamentals.

She is diligent and is a dependable team worker. Overtime she has successfully accomplished various tasks/projects/assignments as required by Techno India University on various academic occasions. She has a positive attitude and eagerness to complete task within allocated time frame. Presently, she is an active participant in a project on 'Natural Language Processing using Python', under the aegis of another reputed university in India.

Besides her subject, she is well conversant in various programming languages, namely, Python, R, MS Office etc. She has exceptional communication and presentation skills. Her can-do attitude and academic skills were valued not just by myself, but by her peers, who often relied on her to get various jobs done.

If you need more information and specific examples, please do not hesitate to contact me at (+91)-9051935541, or email me at sanchitastats@gmail.com. As a recommendation letter is likely to provide only a snapshot of her talents and accomplishments, I would be happy to further elaborate my time as her teacher.

Sincerely,

SANCHITA BHATTACHARJEE
Assistant Professor, Department of Data Science
Techno India University