PASSION AND EXPLORING IS INBUILT FUNCTION IN ME

Hello, my name is Pranjali Dixit and I am a citizen of India. My short-term goal is to become a part of South Korea and I hope to be able to complete this goal. My educational background is business as I have done my Post graduation at DAVV University, with the college named Indore Institute of Management, and research from Indore, India. I studied MBA with dual specialization in HR and MARKETING with an A grade. I have done internship programs in HR as well as in MARKETING during my academic year. Also, during my bachelor's and master's I had a great number of achievements like – Presenting a Research Paper in front of Business delegates, Being a leader of 12 to 15 members, Organized events in a fest, Study people's behavior in different situations, and many more. Apart from academics, I have some non-academic talent which is a must. I love to dance and reading book is one of my favorite passing times. Well, sports are also a must and I love to play basketball, badminton, and cricket. After completing my education, I started doing jobs according to my education. The recent one was in one of the IT companies as a TALENT ACQUISITION for more than a year.

My family is well settled as my both parents are working. My father is a businessman, and my mother is a teacher. Furthermore, I am looking forward to acquiring a master's degree with the course in your prestigious institution. My two educational goals are to gain a master's degree in FINTECH and to learn the Korean Language. I want to explore more and more of myself with different cultures and norms.

I have been admiring south Korea since 2019, I first come across the capital Seoul, and I got mesmerized by the beauty. By researching more about it I started learning about the culture, the language, the slang, the education system, the entertainment industry, and more. There are numerous reasons why I want to study in South Korea and what I want to learn from South Korea during my study. First, the opportunity to live in a highly developed country like South Korea can be considered once in a lifetime experience since South Korea is Asia's fourth-largest by its economy which has had rapid growth in recent years. It is an information & communication technology considered to be one of the best in the world, thus a promising place to acquire and experience a lot of new things. Living and studying in this highly competitive environment will certainly assist me in improving my determination which would be useful for me in the future. The prospect of living in a highly developed country from my home country may prove to be very challenging at first but I believe it offers an exciting new door opportunity for me because what a student needs in his education life is a grant in South Korea. The government helps foreign students, the fees are affordable, the food is rich, the professors are highly educated, and the job opportunities are amazing so overall there is A promising future and advanced technology which will help me to grow more.

Second, South Korea has a great quality education system that has already been applied in the country. Not only spend my time focusing on my study, but I also want to spend my time learning more about South Korea. For me, South Korea is a country that has an abundance of exciting things to explore. I want to discover things and make connections.

I will be doing a Master's degree in Fintech, and I search for this course. I got to know that it is there in Sol bridge international school of business by Woosung university. It is situated in Daejeon, the Silicon Valley of South Korea. They have all kinds of facilities which I needed for my course plus they are giving me the best education sessions and support with an affordable fee structure which will help me to gain a good number of credits and with a future grantee of job. I am feeling privileged to study at this university.

The business world has 3 main departments which will help them to grow. HR, MARKETING & FINANCE. Although there are many others, these are 3 basic ones. As I have done my MBA in HR & MARKETING, I want to explore the finance sector. It is kind of beneficial to me because my ways to contribute to the financial sector get set. I want to do Fintech and gain a lot of financial knowledge so that I can work in one of my dream companies. After completing my master's degree in Fintech, my goal is to oversee and supervise the company within my community.

Although studying in a totally different arena gives me sickness and hardness sometimes, I may feel low or alone but I will try to overcome them by giving attention to the best part of my study term. I will make connections with people, professors, and mentors. Social butterfly and exploring can help me to calm myself and get a new kick start for the day. I hope this study trip will be the best for my life.

Returning to my country will always be there in my opinion as I will always stay connected with my home. If ever I feel that I did contribute to Korean society to a good point and now I want to contribute to my country I will return. I will be very happy to give my knowledge, my experience, and learning to my country as it will help to grow in GDP and others. As South Korea and India are like a friend to each other we will learn more and more and bound a strong string for the future. I hope to get the best experience in South Korea so that I can proudly share this with India.

Regardless, I am going to study in a planned manner because without a plan our life gets messed up. By doing Planning it will help me to reduce study stress by providing me with enough time to rest and assimilate. It allows me to see how I spend my time and ensures that are set aside enough time outside of class to complete homework assignments, study for tests, and review and retain the information that I am learning. Also, apart from this, I will be going to explore the country and simultaneously do hard work for my credits so that in the future my opportunities will be vast and happening.
