Recommendation letter

To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN,

Dear Sir/ Madam,

I am writing this letter of recommendation for Abdiqani Abdullahi Abdisalan who was my student in CS16D class, department of Computer Science, Faculty of Computing, University of Somalia.

Abdiqani is a careful and creative thinker with an eye for details and a devotion to logic, which serves him well both in the science and outside them. He has great ability to draw on his own experience and observations to develop thoughtful opinions on a variety of issues. He was also invaluable in small group interaction with his peers.

Indeed, without my asking, Abdiqani took on the responsibility of helping his classmates consolidate vast amount of information into coherent sets of ideas, and he quickly became a study group leader. In addition to that, he was very generous with his time and energies. He is not only an excellent student, but he is also personally delightful. He is comfortable with his self as he is engaging, pleasant, and humorous. He truly has a comprehensive knowledge of computer science, and his personal qualities inspire affinity in his classmates and colleagues.

Please contact me if there is any further detail at the cell phone or through the E-mail address listed above.

Sincerely,

Dr. Mohamed Adam Isak, PhD.
