

The course curriculum is very much related to my past experience and skills and I think pursuing this course will give me added advantage to upgrade my following skillsets in sales, customer service, team management, operations and help me to gain and learn new dimensions of business administration and management in order to bridge the gap between corporate and job seekers. In future I wanted to be a CEO or Managing Director as I always wanted to give something back to the society through my work this course will help me in building interpersonal relationships and help me to develop new ideas and strategies that will be helpful for the change of society and create a new arena of opportunities for the corporates and job aspirants.

I have left the job of retail store manager in 2019 due to unfortunate demise of my father. From 2019 I have managed my own Welding Works & Accessories business and at the same time upgrade my knowledge doing online courses like google fundamentals of digital marketing, Alison risk management course, scouts and guides beginner course. Recently I have got Doctorate Degree from WHRPC in business administration & human rights. I am proud national member of WHRPC as human rights activist.

As my younger brother is now available to take care of my business and I will take step forward to fulfill my dream of pursuing MBA or Masters.

I have done BBA in retail and the subjects are basically revolve around business management, administration, leadership aspects mba is similar to the curriculum which I had learned earlier from my undergraduate degree. Mba programme will provide me more vast dynamic area to learn the managerial and leadership skills.
