

Statement of Purpose

I am writing to express my interest in pursuing the Master of Nursing program in Australia. With a strong academic foundation, professional nursing experience, and a commitment to advancing healthcare practices, I am eager to expand my knowledge, refine my skills, and contribute meaningfully to the nursing profession on a global scale.

I completed my Bachelor of Science in Nursing from KNN College of Nursing, Bengaluru, in 2022, graduating with distinction in my final year. My undergraduate education provided me with comprehensive exposure to various disciplines of nursing, including medical-surgical nursing, community health nursing, pediatrics, psychiatric nursing, and obstetrics. It laid the groundwork for my professional journey and instilled in me the values of compassion, patient-centered care, and evidence-based practice.

Following graduation, I gained 18 months of clinical experience as a Staff Nurse at Medica Super-speciality Hospital, Kolkata (March 2023 – October 2024). In this role, I provided direct patient care in medical-surgical units, managed IV therapy, wound care, patient monitoring, and documentation, and collaborated closely with physicians and multidisciplinary teams. This experience strengthened my ability to deliver holistic care, adapt to challenging clinical environments, and apply theoretical knowledge in practice. It also inspired me to further my education to enhance my leadership abilities and expand my contribution to healthcare delivery.

In addition to my academic and professional accomplishments, I successfully passed the NCLEX-RN examination in May 2025 and hold registration with the West Bengal Nursing Council. I am also certified in Basic Life Support (BLS), which further supports my commitment to patient safety and emergency preparedness.

My decision to pursue postgraduate nursing studies in Australia stems from the country's global reputation for excellence in healthcare education, advanced clinical practice, and multicultural learning environments. I believe that studying in such a setting will broaden my perspective, enable me to learn from diverse healthcare systems, and prepare me to contribute effectively to both local and international nursing practice.

Upon completion of the Master of Nursing program, I intend to advance my career as a nursing leader and educator, promoting evidence-based practice and contributing to patient care improvements. I am particularly motivated to engage in research, academic growth, and global collaboration, which will allow me to serve communities with greater impact.

I am confident that my academic background, clinical expertise, and passion for lifelong learning make me a strong candidate for this program. I look forward to the opportunity to be a part of your esteemed institution and to contribute to the nursing profession at a higher level.

Sincerely,
Anamika Gurung
