To whom it may concern

I am writing this letter to give my recommendation for Sohini Bhattacharya who is applying to the Master in Science program at your esteemed University. She completed her B.Sc with Food and Nutrition Hons from our College in 2024. I have known Sohini in my capacity as her Professor for two years, during which, I taught her research methodology and biostatistics paper. She possesses a positive attitude towards academics and has always been an attentive and a hard-working student.

Apart from academia, Sohini also participated in National Nutrition Month Celebration in our College. Despite several challenges she along with other members of the organising committee, ensured that the main event was carried out smoothly and was able to provide quick and effective solutions to the problems. Sohini is always ready to undertake responsibility and carries out her duties with dedication.

I sincerely believe that Sohini will bring her unique energy, optimism, passion, and tireless creativity to your class and University. I endorse for her application. If you have any questions about her recommendation, please do not hesitate to contact me.
